DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 20-23 and 25 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection. Claim 20 has been amended.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 20, 22, 23 and 25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Shirashima et al (US Patent Number 6275465).

Regarding claim 20, Shirashima et al disclose:

A disk-anchoring device of an optical disk device, comprising:

A substrate (figure 1, item 23);

A clamper frame (figure 1, item 26) for holding a clamper (figure 1, item 27), pivoted (figure 1A, arrow a1-a2) on said substrate (figure 2, pivots about items 23 and 28) and having a first protrusion portion (figure 2, item 23f);

A sliding element (figure 1, item 33), movably mounted on said substrate (column 6, lines 37-41) and having an inclined portion, and a second protrusion (figure 1B below);

Wherein, after a disk is loaded into the optical disk device, said second protrusion portion abuts and pushes said first protrusion portion (figure 1B below).

The disk-anchoring device as claimed in claim 20, further comprising an elastic element (figure 2, item S) disposed on said substrate (figure 2, connected to substrate via 23c) and providing a force on said clamber frame (column 5, lines 59-65).

The disk-anchoring device as claimed in claim 20, wherein said clamper frame (figure 2, item 26) has a clamping flange (figure 1, item 35), and said clamper is mounted on said clamping flange (figure 1, item 27 is supported by item 35).

The disk-anchoring portion as claimed in claim 20, wherein said sliding element further has a third protrusion portion (figure 1, item 33C), and before a disk is loaded into the optical disk device (figure 1A), said third protrusion portion (figure 1, item 33) contacts (23f contacts groove of protrusion 33C) and supports said first protrusion portion (figure 1, item 23f is supported by item 33C).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 21 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Shirashima et al, in view of Ota et al (US Patent Number 6721263).

See 8/02 rejection above for base claim 20,
Regarding claim 21, Shirashima et al fail to disclose:

A disk-anchoring device with a magnetic element in the clasper.

Ota et al disclose:

A disk-anchoring device with a magnetic element in the clasper (column 1, lines 38-41).

Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use a disk clasper with a magnet, so as to attract the turntable to clamp the disk.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
